We Promote Well-Informed, Safe & Healthy Communities

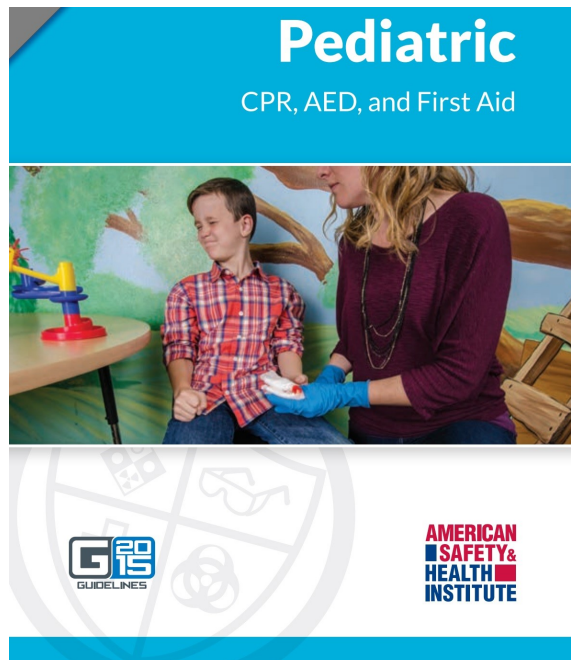

Supporting corporations and communities, Well Source Development is an independent health and safety training and consulting firm. We provide a variety of health and safety trainings and health communications consulting services that are 100% applicable to the clients we serve.

Well Source Development was established in 2008 out of the desire to offer worksites and community groups a quality training firm with outstanding customer service. Because all groups are different, we pride ourselves with the ability and expertise to customize many of our trainings so that our content is fresh, relevant, interesting and tailored specifically to the audience we're speaking to.

Pediatric CPR, AED and First Aid

The American Safety and Health Institute (ASHI) Pediatric CPR, AED and First Aid course is designed to meet the training requirements for a variety of groups including licensed daycare providers, childcare workers, and other individuals who desire or are required to be certified in pediatric CPR, AED and first aid.

Who Needs Pediatric CPR, AED and First Aid Training?

This course is ideal for many groups and individuals including but not limited to: Daycare center staff, youth group staff, school teachers and support staff, new and expecting parents and grandparents, babysitters, and anyone else who may work with or care for children.

Course Options

We offer a variety of options to meet everyone's unique training needs:

- Certification or information-only classes
- Full courses, blended-learning, renewal courses and challenges
- Private, onsite trainings at your location for individuals, small and large groups
